Emmons Residents To Vote On Tax Increase

Residents of the Emmons School District No. 33 were told Tuesday night that their district was in financial difficulties and the .21 cent referendum for educational purposes was only one of two planned.

At the present time the current tax rate for the district is $1.79 and it is proposed that the ultimate goal will be $2.33.

This would represent a hike of .54 cents per hundred on assessed valuation.

Plans of the board are for a 7 cent hike without referendum for the building fund and a 5 cent hike without referendum for the working cash fund.

There will be a 21 cent referendum held on March 22 to increase the educational tax and another 21 cent educational tax increase referendum is proposed for May 21.

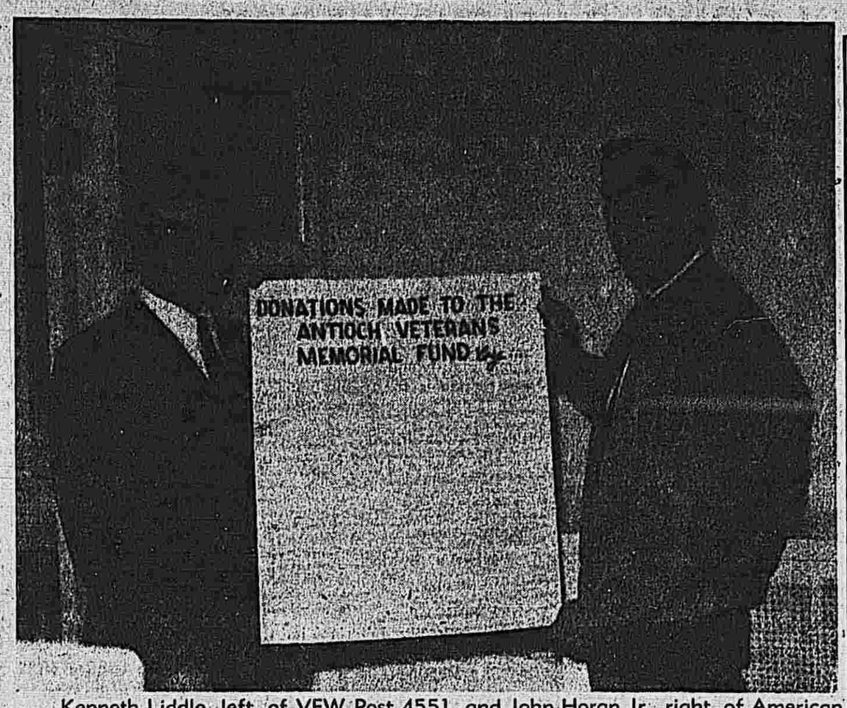

The need for the increase was brought out by the board in a meeting at the school.

It was shown that the anticipated expenses for the 1968-69 school year is $124,100 and that the anticipated revenue from taxes only amounts to $80,500.

This would leave a deficit of $40,000 and residents were told that the board had already arranged for tax anticipation warrants to be issued.

Construction Up In Antioch

Building took another rise in Antioch during 1968 it was reported today by Walter Delaney, Sr., building commissioner, as the figures were totaled for construction during the period.

A total of 64 structures with a value of $879,911 was recorded. It made the fourth straight year that the building value has gone up, Delaney said.

During the six year period a total of $4,219,977 in value has been constructed in the village.

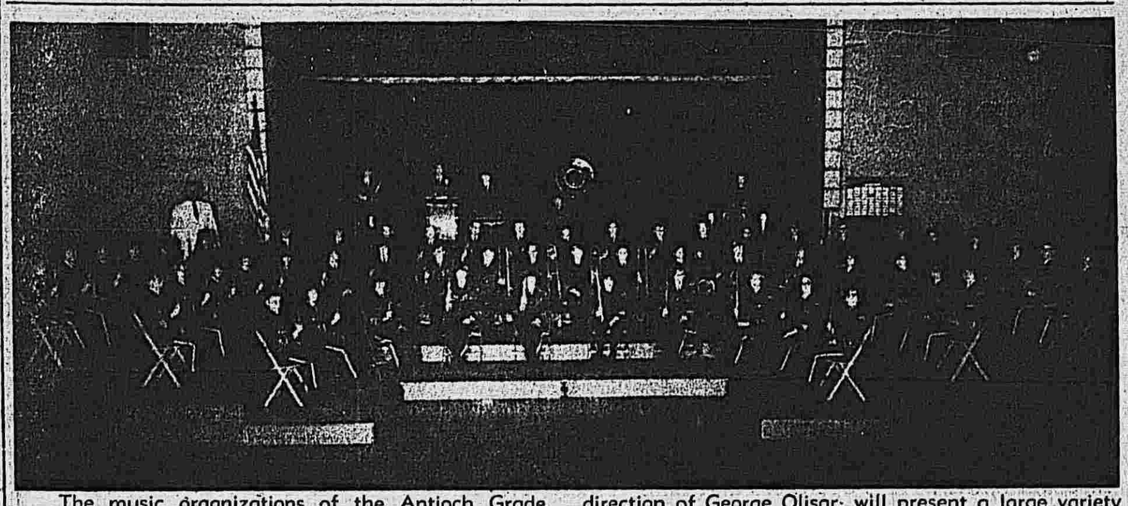

The highest construction period during the years 1963 through 1968 was in 1963 when $1,315,553 was constructed. Swelling the total that year was the Tiffany Arms Apartments.

In 1964 construction totals reached $870,655; 1965—$739,073; 1966—$732,395, and 1967—$866,388.

During the six-year period a total of 351 construction projects were launched.

Delaney said that the most phenomenal growth area in the past year has been the Sequoit Terrace area.

Out of a total of 54 lots, there are 26 already taken up and construction completed.

The music organizations of the Antioch Grade School will present their first annual Spring Concert on Sunday afternoon, March 9 at 3 p.m. in the Antioch Grade School gym. The concert is free to the public. The prep band, junior band and senior band, all under the direction of George Olisar; will present a large variety of band music. This is the first time the prep band will be featured in a concert. The grade school chorus, directed by Mrs. Judith Robinson will also perform.

2 Antioch Area Vets Back Home

Two Antioch area GI's are home from the Vietnam War and are glad to be here.

They are Robert L. Zubor, 21, of Rte. 4, Box 334 Antioch, and Ryan Gilday, Rte. 1, Box 683, Antioch.

Zubor, a 1965 graduate of Central High School, Salem, entered the service on July 17, 1967. He is now discharged from the service because he extended his Vietnam tour to 14 months instead of the usual 12.

Zubor was a member of the 1st Battalion of the 12th Cavalry or the 1st Aircav Division.

During his tour of duty he received the Bronze Star, Army Commendation Medal, Air Medal and the Combat Infantry Badge.

And although he wasn't wounded in combat, he once came close when he kicked a booby trap but it failed to go off.

And this last weekend he celebrated Christmas in his home with his parents ,Mr. and Mrs. Jack A. Zubor, who left the decorations up so that he could enjoy them.

Zubor said the best part of his tour overseas was rest and rehabilitation leave in Tokyo.

"The people are wonderful there," he said, "and they have a beautiful country."

He spent most of his time in the area of the demilitarized zone, participating in combat patrols and sweeps.

Zubor noted that the people of Vietnam the gradually changing their attitudes toward the Americans.

"When we first went over there everyone was against us," he said, "and you didn't know your friend from your enemy. But now the people are beginning to support us."

Ryan Gilday

He said that he was really proud of the Antioch area for sending the letters and packages.

"It means a lot to us over there to get these packages," he said. "We are really proud and other guys used to say they wished that their town would do something like that.

"It's good to know that the people are with you"

Zubor has a brother, Jack, Jr., in the U. S. Air Force, another brother Donny, and two sisters, Donna and Laurie.

Gilday still has five months to go on his service tour but will not go back to Vietnam.

He was in Vietnam for a year

McClory Pushes Lake Bill

Congressman McClory has introduced HR-7011 entitled "A Bill to Remove Pollution Wastes from the Lake Michigan Water Shed." The McClory measure is an outgrowth of a recent meeting in Lake Forest of State Legislators, representatives of the North Shore Sanitary District and Federal and State water pollution control officials.

The McClory bill would appropriate $25 million of Federal funds to defray the Federal share of diverting treated wastes of the North Shore Sanitary District from Lake Michigan to the North branch of the Chicago River and the Des Plaines River. The Federal bill would supplement the $35 million bond issue voted recently by the residents of the Lake County to accomplish these pollutional control objectives.

In addressing the U.S. House of Representatives in support of the measure, Congressman McClory declared:

"I feel that this measure has a broad national interest and offers opportunities for substantial benefits to residents of Illinois, Indi-

Seek 246 Acres For Forest District

Negotiations will begin soon on the purchase of 246 acres adjacent to the Lakewood Forest Preserve in southwestern Lake County. Forest Preserve District approved a resolution at the regular meeting Feb. 20, providing for the purchase or condemnation proceedings. The state price on the property is $332,000 or about $1,350 per acre.

Chairman E. Kenny Harlan of the land acquisition committee said the land would enhance the preserve now owned, expanding it on the west, and tying in the roads through the acreage.

The vote to proceed with the acquisition was unanimous.

Commissioners approved a resolution providing for the use of a microwave tower at Gander Mountain, located west of Antioch, by the Lake County radio station. County radio technician Jay McClasky, Jr., said though the commission had given prior approval to the Waukegan VHF Society to use the tower, there will be no conflict. McClasky said the microwave link will be utilized to relay signals to the station in Libertyville from handy-talkies and mobile units to County water patrol boats operating on the Chain O' Lakes.

In other action, the Forest Preserve District received the final two-tenths interest in 15.3 acres of land in the Edward L. Ryerson Conservation Area from Walter T. Fisher. Mr. Fisher has been donating a percentage of the property to the Forest Preserve District over the past three years under a life estate plan. The Ryerson Conservation Area is in the southeastern section of the county west of Deerfield and along the DesPlaines River.

Trade School

Illinois Superintendent of Public Instruction Ray Page is currently advocating a planned program of vocational education, starting with the beginning of formal education.

We could not agree more.

Page points out that the educational process should emphasize to all students that ours is a society in which every person is expected to work.

He adds that it should be emphasized to the students that we can have economic growth through maximum purchasing power only if everyone works.

We would go a step further than the superintendent.

We would advocate that vocational schools be started for those youths who are not going to go on to college but want to learn a trade.

Back in the old days they use to call them trade schools and boys were taught to be auto mechanics, drill press operators and many other trades.

More and more our school systems are beamed toward the college student and those who can't afford to further their education, or don't want to go to college, are sometimes lost in the shuffle.

Many jobs—especially on construction today—are held up because there are not enough carpenters, bricklayers and the like to keep the job going at full blast.

A student, upon graduation or departure from high school, must today be ready to go to work with training in his chosen occupational area if he does not choose to continue formal education.

Page points out that for every good job in Illinois there should be a skilled person to fill it.

We agree with his premise that with such training every individual can realize greater personal economic security.

Hurrah for you, Mr. Page.

One Of Our Own

One of Antioch's own—Dr. James Kopriva—recently had a showing of his artistic abilities.

Dr. Kopriva's paintings were hung in the new county administration building.

We hope you saw them. We did and they were magnificent.

Too often we ignore the accomplishments of our own residents in searching for news about others—failing to see the forest for the trees so to speak.

There is another art show coming up this spring at the county fairgrounds.

We hope Dr. Kopriva will put his paintings into this show.

We hope you get to see them if you missed the last showing.

With February just about over, all I can say is "We've been real Lucky." Our temperatures have been normal, but all the storms have gone to the north or south of us. I will give you the final figures next week.

The first day of Spring will be on March 20th at 2:08 p.m. and our average temperature should go up about 10° over February's. Here are the past ten March average temperatures, total rain and snow.

	Temp.	Rain	Snow
1969	33.9	3.25	3.1
1960	24.2	1.83	9.5
1961	38.0	4.28	9.0
1962	32.8	1.64	6.8
1963	37.8	3.17	7.5
1964	34.3	2.71	13.0
1965	27.0	3.13	26.3
1966	38.1	2.88	.5
1967	34.7	1.94	6.0
1968	40.3	.32	.8
10 yr. avg.	34.11	2.52	8.25

As you can see, March can be "Wild" but it doesn't last long. In 1965 we had sixteen days with snow, 7.5" fell on the 17th, 3.5" on the 22nd, and 6.0" on the 23rd, giving us 12" on the ground but by the end of the month only 2" remained.

A quick "Time for a Change" had to be taken Sunday after an early dip. I should "Practice what I preach."

Soils Topic Of Meeting On Feb. 27

Kenosha County corn growers are reminded by Paul Jaeger, Kenosha County Agricultural business agent that Leo Walsh, University of Wisconsin Soils Specialist will be the speaker for the next corn clinic on Feb. 27.

Walsh will discuss fertility problems, types of fertilizers, methods of application and special problems of soil in corn growing.

Corn growers will have a choice of two locations. An evening meeting will be held at Central High School at Paddock Lake from 8 to 10 p.m. and an afternoon meeting will be held at the Racine County Office Building from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. in the afternoon.

Weed control will be the topic at the March 3 meeting, which is a part of the six meeting series on corn production.

Your Congressman Reports.....

By Cong. Robert McClory

No one should be too surprised if—in 1972 or even in 1976—former President Lyndon B. Johnson tries for a return to the White House. Having voluntarily retired as our nation's Chief Executive, President Johnson is eligible to be reelected and to serve again for another full term. The Twenty-second Amendment to the Constitution limits a President to two 4-year terms, but the year which Lyndon Johnson served as President, following the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, poses no obstacles.

In addition to possible service as President, there is a remote possibility that LBJ might return as a Member of the United States Senate. Other former presidents have been elected to the Congress subsequent to their presidential terms. Included are President John Quincy Adams who served 16 years in the U. S. House of Representatives after completing 4 years in the White House and President Andrew Johnson who returned to the United States Senate from his native State of Tennessee subsequent to his presidential term. Former President Lyndon B. Johnson might rely upon these precedents.

Primary among the reasons to suspect Lyndon B. Johnson's secret ambition to return to national public life is his unique and spectacular personal appearance before the Joint Session of the Congress to deliver his final State of the Union message. This dramatic performance was hardly consistent with the role of one aiming to fade quietly into the privacy of retirement. His deliberate presentation—with generous accolades tossed to Republicans and Democrats alike, and particularly to the influential Members of Congress from across our broad country—illustrated clearly the vote-getting strategy employed so effectively in the successful political career of the "retiring" Chief Executive. The result: even some of his bitterest antagonists are saying nice things—today—about LBJ.

In addition to the "record" to which Mr. Johnson referred to so proudly before the Joint Session are—(a) the seemingly interminable war in Southeast Asia, (b) an uneasy economic situation, and (c) an unprecedented wave of crime and disorder. These were part of the "record" which Vice President Humphrey—as the Democratic nominee—was unable to overcome, following the strategic announcement of the President that he would not carry the standard (or bear the burden) for the Democrats in 1968.

Even though President Richard M. Nixon will lead the nation in promoting those things which need to be done, the hard decisions he must make may not enhance Republican popularity across the country. Meanwhile an aura of affection and respect will surround Lyndon B. Johnson as he "waits in the wings." He may emerge occasionally from his vast Texas ranch to deliver scholarly and appealing lectures on university campuses, touching upon the great problems which plague the nation, (some of which—as president—he helped to create and all of which he failed to solve). It may be he will be waiting—indeed—to serve the nation or, at least, his beloved State of Texas again.

In 1972 (at the age of 64) with the expectation of robust health, LBJ would be ripe for a return to the White House. If he could snatch this "mandate" from an anxious scion of the Kennedy family, he would relish the "call to duty" even more. It could hardly be questioned that Lady Bird, as well as Luci and Lynda and their families, would enjoy a return to Washington, also. Except—possibly—the late Franklin D. Roosevelt (who was elected for four terms) no one seems to have derived more satisfaction from residing at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue than Lyndon B. Johnson and his family.

After "sitting it out" for four years on the banks of the Pedernales, it is entirely conceivable that Lyndon and Lady Bird would welcome a return to the nation's capital on the banks of the Potomac. Who knows?

When Lyndon B. Johnson uttered his "farewell" State of the Union message, did he really mean "Adios!" (Goodbye!) or "Hasta la vista?" (Till we meet again?)

What Is A Community College?

(First in a Series)

When the College of Lake County begins classes this fall, it will join the ranks of a rapidly growing institutoin on the national educational scene — the community college. In the past ten years, these two-year schools of higher learning have grown in volume, stature and purpose.

In 1965 the Illinois Legislature passed the Junior College Act allowing for the formation of college districts and a formula for financing assistance that would make it attractive to the local taxpayer. It has been over a year and a half since voters approved the formation of a community college for Lake County, and in a matter of months, it is expected that over 1,000 students will begin classes.

Dr. Richard Erzen, President of CLC, pinpoints some of the differences between the community college and the traditional college. One of the primary differences setting the community college apart is that it must reflect the needs of the community. "Not only must the community college determine the demands of business and industry in the area it serves, but it must also determine the educational goals of its students and their needs. The program offered at CLC will be constantly re-evaluated to keep abreast of these needs."

Dr. Erzen points out the college will offer an extensive career program covering many fields of business and industry, offering one and two year courses of study. There will also be a regular two year college transfer program, allowing students to begin their college education locally and continue at another school offering a baccalaureate degree at the end of four years.

"Our role is not that of a senior college. Under the law, we must remain a two-year college, offering only those programs which maintain high academic standards and qualify as freshman and sophomore level courses. Our transfer program will provide students with the same curricula they would receive in their freshman and sophomore years in a four-year college. At the end of two years, these graduates receive an Associate Degree. Our advantage is that we are able to offer these two years in a more convenient location and at a more reasonable fee," Dr. Erzen continued.

In addition to the careers and transfer programs, CLC will provide developmental services to potential students in the district, Dr. Erzen explained this in an effort designed to better prepare the high school graduate for college. Included will be a strong counseling service, remedial courses where needed, and acquainting the student with demands of the college program.

"Students seeking admission to CLC will be expected to have the potential for scholastic success in the program selected. We will have the resources to give the student an opportunity to upgrade himself academically in order to participate in the various college programs."

Dr. Erzen further points to the flexibility of the community college: Classes at CLC will begin at 8:00 a.m. and continue to 10 p.m. daily, thus allowing students to arrange their schedules to coincide with other demands in their lives. The same classes offered during the day will also be available at night if the demand exists.

"Students with jobs could manage a full class load without sacrificing their work. It will also mean more adults will be able to attend classes during the extended day."

In summing up the community college program and the role of College of Lake County, Dr. Erzen concludes by pointing to the rising cost of higher education today. By taking advantage of the community college, those who wish to have a four-year college education may cut their expenses 50 to 75 per cent by attending a community college during their freshman and sophomore years.

"The College of Lake County belongs to the community and we will strive to make it reflect the educational needs of its citizenry. We look at education as a lifelong endeavor and with a quality college at their doorstep, we are confident many will avail themselves of the opportunity."

Grant Okayed For Law Study

The Lake County Board of Supervisors has learned its application for a federal grant to conduct a county-wide law enforcement assistance study has been approved.

The amount of the grant will be released at a later date, according to a spokesman for the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission.

Purpose for conducting the study is to make county and municipal law enforcement agencies eligible to receive "action grants" to improve and strengthen all aspects of law enforcement.

County Development Coordinator Jerrold Soesbe said grants specifically mentioned are: public protection, recruitment and training of personnel, public education, construction of facilities, riot control and disorders, and community service officer programs. Soesbe emphasized that the study will be a combined effort of county and municipal law enforcement agencies.

Municipalities participating in the study include: Deerfield, Grayslake, Gurnee, Highland Park, Highwood, Lake Bluff, Lake Forest, Libertyville, Lincolnshire, Mundelein, Park City, Round Lake Park, Third Lake, Waukegan, and Winthrop Harbor.

County departments cooperating in the study include: Sheriff, State's Attorney, Probation, Data Processing, and Communications.

Funds for the initial survey come from Illinois Governor's Committee on Criminal Justice, under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968.

Following the overall study, individual municipalities will apply for funds under the "action grant" section to meet specific department needs.

rive in the United States in August of this year.

Determining which family will get the student will depend on many factors.

New York A.F.S. carefully examines each home application and each foreign student application and tries to place the foreign student with the host family who will most easily adjust to each other's similarities and differences and, as a result, experience a most worthwhile relationship.

A.F.S. will need the support of the high school and entire community to make the next foreign student feel welcome, so that he or she can return home with pleasant memories and new understanding after having been here.

Emmons Residents

Hall, said he thought it might not be a bad idea for Emmons to join the Antioch Grade School District rather than flounder in financial troubles.

The root of the trouble seems to be the lack of students at the school which services about 120 pupils.

The district recently added on to the school and could take a student body of about 300.

Such a student body would increase the money coming in from the state and relieve much of the financial problem.

County Superintendent of Schools W. C. Petty told the more than 30 persons attending the meeting that the state, he believed, would increase the rate of $400 per pupil to $500 per pupil during this session of the legislature.

While Petty did not come out and specifically say that it was his recommendation that the school district "go it on its own rather than consolidate" the intimation was there.

"I would be inclined to take a shot at it for another year," Petty said, "but I am not going to try and influence you one way or the other."

The board pointed out that it had proposed to cut one teacher from the staff and eliminate music, art, reading improvement and speech in order to save money.

It was pointed out that Emmons had the lowest tax rate of the surrounding school district except for Millburn which has a rate of $1.77.

The assessed value of Emmons is $946,500 and is is expected to be increased in the coming years.

The approximate amount the present tax rate for educational purposes raises is $50,948.

If the next tax rate is established it would bring in $61,336.

There will be one election precinct and that will be in Emmons School at Rte. 59 and Beach Grove Road.

Polls will be open from noon and will close at 7 p.m.

Tornado Plan Urged For Schools

Lake County Civil Defense Director Richard Willer has sent a letter to all school superintendents in the county regarding the upcoming tornado season.

Willer says it would be desirable for every school to post a spotter when a tornado watch is in effect. The spotter should have an unobstructed view from southwest to northwest and a means of signaling an alarm should a tornado approach.

The letter emphasizes the importance of having a prepared plan worked out prior to the tornado season with students, teachers and administrative staff participating in the drills.

Some precautions which should be taken when a tornado warning is in effect include: open as many windows in the building as possible; stay away from windows, doors, skylights, etc.; move to an underground area if possible, or to protected interior areas of the building; never use gymnasiums, auditoriums, mobile classrooms or trailers, or any building with a large support roof; if time does not permit evacuation of students to protected areas, some protection is offered by being under desks and tables; if children are outside and no time remains to get inside, they should lie flat in a culvert or depression in the ground, or if none is available lie flat , covering their heads.

Willer has also contacted all civil defense directors in the county and urged them to contact the schools as a follow-up, and to assist in any way they can on formulating a plan.

Chiefs of Police Endorse Academy

The Illinois Association of Chiefs of Police have strongly endorsed Attorney General William J. Scott's proposal of a four-year Police Academy for Illinois.

Scott has called for establishment of a "West Point" type four-year, degree college to train police to cope with today's increasingly complex law-enforcement problems.

Silver Suarez, president of the police chiefs' association, told Scott, ". . . The demand for training in the field of law enforcement will not be met until the State of Illinois has created a College of Police Science. . . "

Suarez was among thirty Illinois law enforcement officials and educators to date who have written supporting Scott's Police Academy proposal and volunteering their assistance in planning the academy.

Last week, in Washington, D. C., top U. S. Justice officials approved the Illinois Police Academy proposal and told Scott that it could be largely funded through money available under the federal Omnibus Crime Bill.

Attorney General Scott is a member of a committee which has the responsibility of drawing up a statewide crime-control program for Illinois.

In addition to the four-year Police Academy, Scott has urged that the state program include a statewide criminal bureau of investigation to spearhead the drive against organized crime and the creation of a state public defender system.

Government Makes It Easier To Contest Your Income Tax

The United States government has taken steps to make it easier —believe it or not—for the income taxpayer to contest decisions of the Internal Revenue Service.

According to the Illinois State Bar Association, the Tax Court of the United States has adopted a new method for processing cases in which the amount at issue is $1,000 or less. The method, effective Jan. 1, 1969, is designed to help the small taxpayer contest his tax with as few delays and extra expense as possible.

Here is the way it works:

If the IRS feels that the taxpayer's own computation on his return falls short of his true tax, he will receive a bill, or assessment notice. If a settlement acceptable to both parties cannot be reached, the taxpayer will receive notice that he has 90 days in which to file an appeal. At this point, the taxpayer has two options: 1) He can pay the additional money and then sue for a refund in U. S. District Court. If successful, he obtains not only the refund but 6% interest on the money; 2) He can withhold payment and file a petition in Tax Court. In doing so he runs the risk of having to pay the government 6% plus the money in question should he lose the case.

There is one hitch. Cases which are accepted by Tax Court are heard entirely at the complainant's expense. There is a flat $10 fee for filing. There may also be additional costs such as attorney's fees, although there is no rule preventing the taxpayer from arguing his own case. However, win or lose, all expenses for contesting a tax bill are deductible expense items on the taxpayer's next tax return.

Tax Court operates in a manner reminiscent of circuit-riding courts. Though headquartered in Washington, D. C., the court conducts hearings all over the country. Decisions are made by the judge and may be appealed to the U. S. Court of Appeals and the Supreme Court.

Anyone wishing to obtain a form for petitioning the Tax Court may write to the clerk, U. S. Tax Court, P. O. Box 70, Washington, D. C. 20044.

Army Offers Nursing Scholarships

Nursing scholarship amounting to more than $12,000 for a four-year period are available to qualified high school students through the Walter Reed Army Institute of Nursing (WRAIN) program.

Students selected for this program attend the college or university of their choice for two years, and educational expenses (such as tuition and fees) are paid directly to the school. The student also receives living expenses during these first two years of college.

Upon successful completion of two years at the University of Maryland, the student is awarded a B.S. degree in nursing. Concurrently, he (or she) is commissioned as a second lieutenant in the Army Nurse Corps.

Students earning their degree through this WRAIN program have all college expenses paid, and in return, agree to spend three active years on active duty as a member of the Army Nurse Corps. First assignments are usually large Army hospitals stateside. Then, nurses have an opportunity to serve at one of the other Army Hospitals throughout the world.

Basic requirements for WRAIN applicants are scholastic achievement, recommendation of the high school principal, and satisfactory completion of the College Entrance Examination Board or the American College Test.

Closing date for application for WRAIN scolarships is March 31. For further information on this program, and scholarship applications, interested high school seniors are asked to contact Capt. Andrea Barlow, Army Nurse Corps counselor for this area, at 615 W. VanBuren St., Chicago, Ill., or contact your local Army recruiter at 620½ Washington St., Waukegan.

MOOSE TOPICS

By Lillian Birdsell

Joe Stenek, member of the Antioch Moose Lodge, was a celebrity on TV Sunday, Feb. 23, at 4 p.m. when he appeared on channel 32. Mr. Stenek, owner of a fabulous gun collection was interviewed on the Out Door Sports program. He had on display several of his guns of which he gave a description and story on each one. The topic was very interesting, for some of his guns dated way back into history. The stories he hold concerning the guns were true to life and impressive. Mr. Stenek said that whenever he goes any place he is always looking for another item to add to his collection, for if you look hard enough, you always find what you want. The members of the Lodge who saw this program and Mr. Stenek are very proud of him.

If the members of the Antioch Moose and their guests expected to see men's clothing modeled at the hilarious men's style show, Saturday evening, Feb. 15, they didn't. What they did see was men modeling women's clothing with all the latest styles and including their head pieces. It was really a riot and for those who have never seen this show before said they really enjoyed it. The Twilighters band furnished the music for dancing following the show and the committee in charge served refreshments to the over 200 persons in attendance. The evening was a complete success. Gerry Mark, Collegian for the Women of the Moose, started this show about three years ago and through a lot of hard work, has had success each and every time she has put it on.

Another successful evening was the Antioch's Firemen's dinner and dance which was held at the Antioch Moose Home, Saturday evening, Feb. 23. Over 100 persons attended for a gala night. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stroner and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Miller prepared the fine meal that was served to the guests. Waiting tables and helping the cause was senior regent, Shirley Gehrls, officers Rose Roth, Jerri Polson, and Bernie Rosquist and collegian Gert Good.

An enrollment will be held for the Loyal Order on Saturday evening, March 1st, with the Antioch ritual team performing. A smorgasbord will be served to all attending members.

It is that time of the year again when new officers will be picked to run the affairs of the Antioch Moose Home. The nominating committee which was announced at the last meeting will be posted on the bulletin board at the Moose Home. For those who are interested in assuming the responsibility of an office can contact anyone on the committee to submit their names.

The Antioch Moose Hunt Club will hold their meeting at the Moose Home on Friday evening, Feb. 28, at 8 p.m. This will be the last meeting before the election of new officers for the Hunt Club. Information can be obtained for the provisions made for the absentee balloting that has been set up for members who can not attend the meeting in order to cast their vote. Members are requested to attend this important meeting so they may be fully informed of all doings.

The Moose Convention is slated for March 14th, and will be held in Champaign, Ill. For all members who are planning to go, they should be sure to get reservations before time to make sure they have room. The convention will last for three days, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, March 14, 15 and 16. This is the one place to get all the first hand information concerning the rules and regulations of Moose. For all members who are interested, be sure to attend.

Legion Auxiliary

By Del Jahneke

Each February, the American Legion Auxiliary pays special attention to the memory of four Men of God who unselfishly sacrificed their lives during World War II, when the American troopship SS Dorchester plowed through the cold, black, churning waters off Greenland. Then came a Nazi torpedo rippling to the heart of the troop ship. These four men, Protestant, Catholic and Jewish, (Chaplain George Fox, Methodist; Rabbi Alexander Goode; Chaplain John Washington, Irish Catholic priest, and Chaplain Clark Voling, Reformed Church of America) insisted on giving their life jackets to four servicemen. They then clasped each other's hands, with their voices calmly united in prayer, and sank into the icy sea on the fast sinking deck of the ship.

A fitting tribute has been erected—the Chapel of the Four Chaplains, as an Interfaith Shrine on the campus of Temple University, Philadelphia, Pa. Mrs. Thomas Rizzo, Lake Zurich, Chaplain of the 10th District American Legion Auxiliary, announces that she hopes every unit in Lake County will make a contribution to the preservation of this Shrine, as a gift of those who believe in its solemnity and dedication. Mrs. F. A. Swenson, Antioch unit chaplain, states that this auxiliary made a donation last year, and will make another one this year.

Mrs. Rizzo urges all junior and senior members to enter the "Book of Prayers and Devotional Thoughts" Contest. Any auxiliary member desiring further information should contact either Mrs. Rizzo or Mrs. Swenson. The deadline date in District competition for entries is May 1.

There will be a Second Division Poppy meeting at Sycamore Memorial Home, Sycamore, Ill., on March 9th at 2:00 p.m. All unit and post poppy chairmen, post commanders, and past presidents are asked to be present. Mrs. Bernard DeVries is the poppy chairman for the Antioch American Legion Auxiliary.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Bible Lesson-Sermon to be heard at Christian Science churches this Sunday. The Golden Text is from Ephesians: "Ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellowcitizens with the saints, and of the household of God: and are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone."

At First Church of Christ, Scientist, BEACON HILL,, Rte. 173 and Harden, Antioch, the service will begin at 11 A.M.

Correlated passages from the denominational textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, will include the following: "Christianity as Jesus taught it was not a creed, nor a system of ceremonies, nor a special gift from a ritualistic Jehovah; but it was the demonstration of divine Love casting out error and healing the sick, not merely in the name of Christ, or Truth, but in the demonstration of Truth, as must be the case in the cycles of divine light."

Teenage Girls Will Vie For Beauty Crown

Teenage girls in the greater Chicagoland area who wish to enter the fourth annual International Teen Princess Pageant are advised to pick up their application blanks at their local Montgomery Ward stores.

The applications will be available in the Wendy Ward Charm School Boutique of all Ward stores through April 1.

The winner of this contest will become the "Teen Princess—Chicago." The contest, sponsored by Montgomery Ward, is conducted in cooperation with Teen Magazine.

The Fourth International Teen Princess Pageant will be held at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago in late May. The American representative to the Pageant, the "Teen Princess—U.S.A." will be chosen in Chicago from May 1 through 3.

Ekdahl Attends Showing

Carl Ekdahl of Pedersen Bros. Imp., Antioch, recently attended a Gehl Company new product "preview" day to witness the unveiling of several new products in the Gehl line of farm machinery. The unveiling was done at the Holiday Inn, La Salle. The local firm holds the Gehl franchise in this area.

Shown for the first time were two completely new Gehl forage harvesters with cylinder (lawnmower type) cutting mechanisms. One has a separate blower enabling the operator to use a recutter screen. The other cuts and throws material into the box with a single action of each knife.

Also included in the unveiling was a recutter-blower. This two-in-one combination offers farmers the opportunity to chop a variety of crops, year around, at the silo.

Still another item displayed was a self-unloading forage box with worm gear unloading drive and chain-and-slat front cross conveyor.

All equipment will be available in this area through the Gehl dealership, according to Ekdahl.

Farmers are invited to watch this paper for announcements of when the equipment is in stock. The firm expects to hold its own "Gehl Preview Nite" for area farmers at that time.

The resignation of James Donovan of the English department was accepted.

Reports on curriculum changes, most of which involve changes of organization within existing subjects, were heard and the changes approved.

The world's fastest self-cleaning ovens.

A new gas self-cleaning oven can get the messiest jobs done in half the time it takes the electric kind.

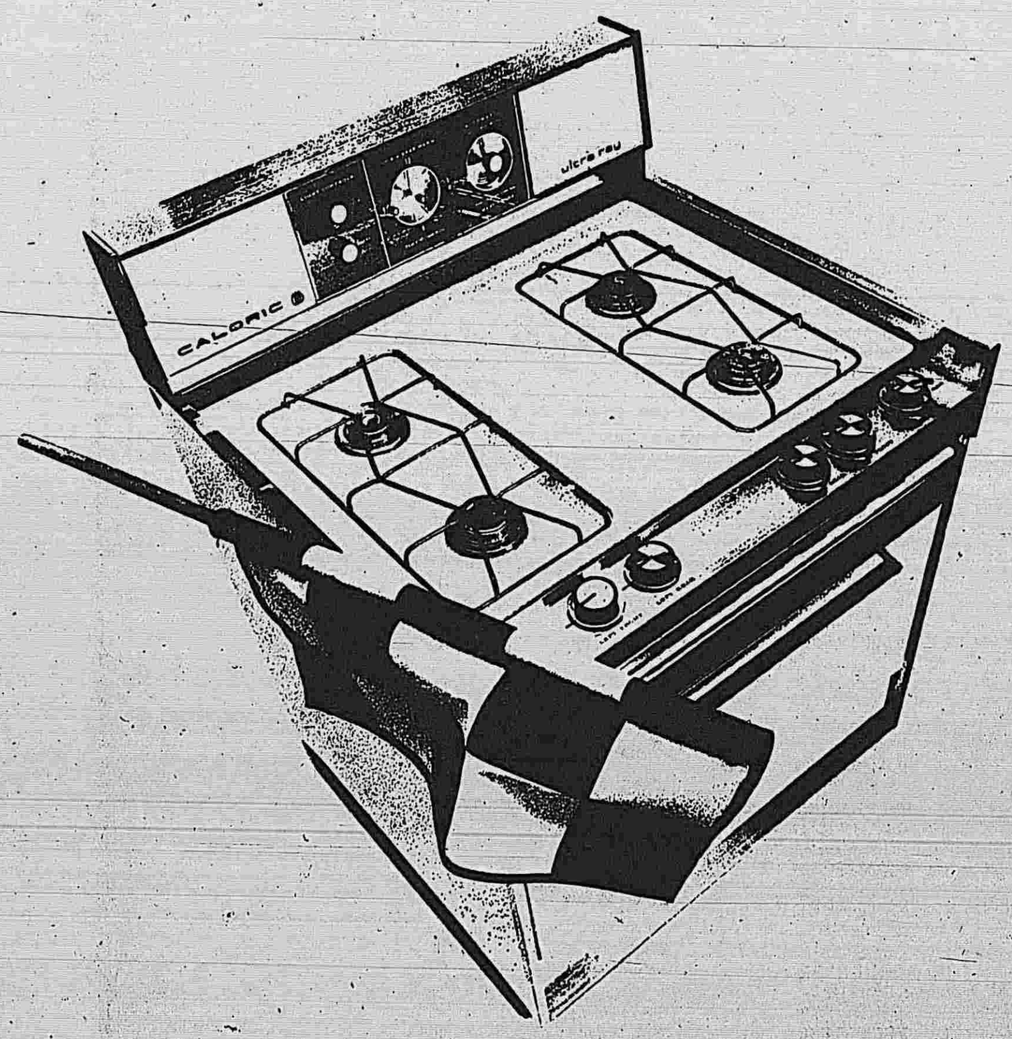

And with gas, you can shorten the cleaning cycle even more if an oven isn't soiled enough to require the full treatment.

But the best part about a new self-cleaning oven is the way it's packaged—inside a new gas range. Because only a gas range gives you precision-controlled top-of-stove cooking. Or gas infrared broiling units—the kind that cook quickly... provide eye-appealing browning, too.

Visit your Northern Illinois Gas office or appliance dealer and see why—when ovens come clean—it's no contest.

Gas wins in half the time.

Sequoits Finish In Third Place

SEQUOITS FINISH . . .

Antioch's Sequoits finished out the season in third place last week when the basketball warriors beat out visiting Wauconda 78-64 in the Northwest Suburban Conference finale.

But it was the second half shooting of guard Dave Camp and center Keith Bolton that finally broke open the tight game.

The victory left Antioch with an 8-6 mark in the conference and 11-12 season mark.

Wauconda finished with 5-9 in conference play and 8-15 overall.

Camp hit four baskets and four of six free throws in the fourth quarter to finish with 21 points.

Bolton converted seven of eight freq throw attempts in the last period and finished with 22 tallies.

Antioch Coach Roger Andrews praised the second quarter play of Rod Boswell who finished with 20 points.

Boswell got eight points in the second quarter, eight in the third and pulled down 11 rebounds as did Bolton.

The Sequoits turned over the ball 31 times, however.

Foreign Car Producers Send Entries

A record number of foreign car manufacturers have taken more space than ever before to display their 1969 passenger cars at the 61st Annual Chicago Automobile Show, March 8-16th in the International Amphitheatre.

The imprt firms, many of which have been carving a permanent niche for themselves in the American market, will utilize both wings of the north Arena Hall, and a portion of Donovan Hall, the northern-most exposition room in the Amphitheatre chain. In all, 26 different car lines from leading manufacturers in Great Britain, France, Italy, West Germany, Japan and Sweden will be shown.

Most of these car makers will display full lines making this the largest showing of import cars in the long history of the Chicago Show. Besides their exhibit areas a special salon-type display of cars representing each overseas' firm, will be staged in the arena in connection with the "Motorevue of 1969," a musical show featuring a pageant of new cars.

Looking forward to another banner sales year, the import car makers are apparently going all out to bring their products before the Chicago motor fans. While they all report improved performance and riding comforts in their respective vehicles, a number of them will use the Chicago Show to introduce all new models.

Great Britain leads in the number of auto firms to be represented with Austin Healey, English Ford, Jaguar, MG, Rootes, Rover and Triumph: West Germany car makers will include BMW, Mercedes - Benz, NSU, Opel Kadett and Volkswagen. The Italian made cars to be shown will be the Alfa Romeo, Ferrari, Fiat, Maserati and Porsche. Japan has four—Datsun, Honda, Subaru and Toyota. France has three—Citroen, Renault and Simca, and Sweden two—Saab and Volvo.

Appearing in the Chicago Show for the first time will be the Alfa Romeo, the NSU and the Subaru. The NSU, which features the Wankel Rotary Motor, will stage a national press preview in Chicago shortly before the show opens. The West Germany firm plans to have a cutaway exhibit of the motor which operates with only two spark plugs and two moving parts.

Promotion material arriving from Japan labels the Subaru as the happiest import from the mysterious Orient since Charlie Chan. Word is that the four-seat, Subaru 360 Sedan, has a top speed of 70 miles an hour and gives 66 miles to one gallon of gasoline—all for $1,297 P.O.E.

In all, there will be more than 450 U. S. passenger cars, commercial and import vehicles in the Chicago Auto show marking it as the most complete show of its kind to be presented in North America this year. The displays will cover more than a half million square feet of exposition space.

Show hours are from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. daily.

The going got a little crowded under the basket as a Sequoit player lets loose with a goal notching toss out of heavy traffic.

Sophs Whip Wauconda In Finale

Antioch's Sophomores whipped Wauconda's Sophomores 53-42 in the season finale last Friday night on the Sequoit floor. After a dull and listless first half which ended in a 13-13 tie, the Sequoits pumped 25 points thru the nets in the third quarter to go ahead 38-25.

They then played a respectable fourth quarter to post the win. Kurth of Wauconda had 23 points, the game's high.

The win gave Antioch a 15-9 season's record and an 11-3 conference record.

Seat Belts Are Being Neglected

The Lake County Safety Commission reports half the motorists in the U. S. are neglecting a simple safety precaution that could save their lives in event of a traffic crash.

In a nationwide poll of more than 135,000 drivers, only 46 per cent of those responding reported they always used their seat belts for local travel — trips up to 25 miles. Slightly more than half (55 per cent) said they always wore their seat belts on trips of 25 miles or more.

Studies of fatal accidents repeatedly show ejection from the vehicle as a leading cause of death. Additionally, severe and often fatal injury can result during the so-called 'second collision' when unrestrained bodies hurtle forward to strike portions of the car interior, or fellow passengers. Seat belts fastened snugly, holding their wearers securely in place, can prevent the majority of 'ejection from vehicle' or 'second collision' type injuries and fatalities.

Executive Director Jerry Klebe reminds motorists that seat belts should be worn firmly around the hips—not the waist—with no slack. Shoulder belts, just loose enough so a fist can be placed between belt and chest, and both should be worn whenever and wherever you ride or drive, buckle up—get the SAFETY habit.

Owners, Drivers Meet

Promoter Gordon Sill, of the Waukegan Speedway, has announced Sunday, March 2 as the date for the annual Lake County Racing owners and drivers meeting. This event will get under way at 2 p.m. in the Lake Villa VFW Hall.

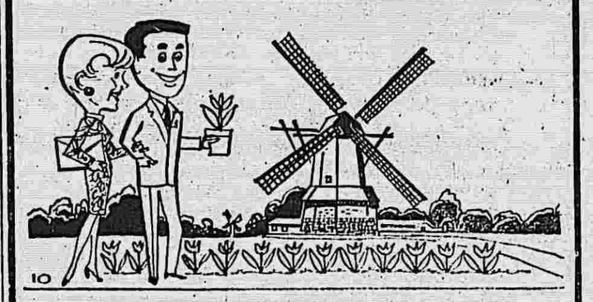

The major business in the meeting will revolve around the new asphalt surface at the Speedway. For over twenty years, Waukegan has been a clay racing surface. The new asphalt topping requires some changes in the track rules, division rules and procedures. These will be outlined at the meeting.

Also on the agenda will be the schedule for the two race car exhibitions the Waukegan Speedway will sponsor in late March. One will be held again this year in the Randhurst Shopping Center in Mount Prospect and the other in the Belvidere Mall in Waukegan.

After the business meeting the divisional registration will be held. Any car owner or driver wishing to run under the same number as he did last season should register at this time. After March 2 all numbers, except 1 through 10 will be available. After the meeting there will be free refreshments.

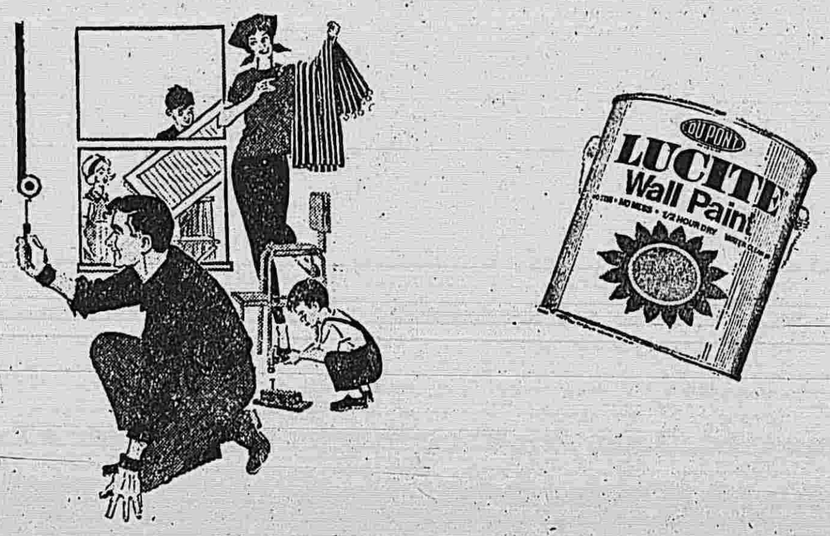

The Waukegan Speedway will kick off their 1969 stock car racing season on Saturday night, April 12, as the late models take to the track. The next night, April 13, the ultra-fast modified division will have their chance to blister the pavement and rewrite the record books.

Sequoits Finish In Third Place

SEQUOITS FINISH

Antioch's Sequoits finished out the season in third place last week when the basketball warriors beat out visiting Wauconda 78-64 in the Northwest Suburban Conference finale.

But it was the second half shooting of guard Dave Camp and center Keith Bolton that finally broke open the tight game.

The victory left Antioch with an 8-6 mark in the conference and 11-12 season mark.

Wauconda finished with 5-9 in conference play and 8-15 overall.

Camp hit four baskets and four of six free throws in the fourth quarter to finish with 21 points.

Bolton converted seven of eight free throw attempts in the last period and finished with 22 tallies.

Antioch Coach Roger Andrews praised the second quarter play of Rod Boswell who finished with 20 points.

Boswell got eight points in the second quarter, eight in the third and pulled down 11 rebounds as did Bolton.

The Sequoits turned over the ball 31 times, however.

Foreign Car Producers Send Entries

A record number of foreign car manufacturers have taken more space than ever before to display their 1969 passenger cars at the 61st Annual Chicago Automobile Show, March 8-16th in the International Amphitheatre.

The import firms, many of which have been carving a permanent niche for themselves in the American market, will utilize both wings of the north Arena Hall, and a portion of Donovan Hall, the northern-most exposition room in the Amphitheatre chain. In all, 26 different car lines from leading manufacturers in Great Britain, France, Italy, West Germany, Japan and Sweden will be shown.

Most of these car makers will display full lines making this the largest showing of import cars in the long history of the Chicago Show. Besides their exhibit areas a special salon-type display of cars representing each overseas' firm, will be staged in the arena in connection with the "Motorevue of 1969," a musical show featuring a pageant of new cars.

Looking forward to another banner sales year, the import car makers are apparently going all out to bring their products before the Chicago motor fans. While they all report improved performance and riding comforts in their respective vehicles, a number of them will use the Chicago Show to introduce all new models.

Great Britain leads in the number of auto firms to be represented with Austin Healey, English Ford, Jaguar, MG, Rootes, Rover and Triumph. West Germany car makers will include BMW, Mercedes - Benz, NSU, Opel Kadett and Volkswagen. The Italian made cars to be shown will be the Alfa Romeo, Ferrari, Fiat, Maserati and Porsche. Japan has four—Datsun, Honda, Subaru and Toyota. France has three—Citroen, Renault and Simca, and Sweden two—Saab and Volvo.

Appearing in the Chicago Show for the first time will be the Alfa Romeo, the NSU and the Subaru. The NSU, which features the Wankel Rotary Motor, will stage a national press preview in Chicago shortly before the show opens. The West Germany firm plans to have a cutaway exhibit of the motor which operates with only two spark plugs and two moving parts.

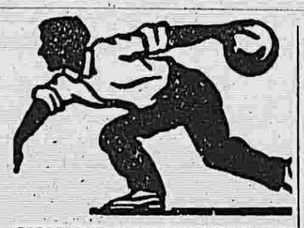

Promotion material arriving from Japan labels the Subaru as the happiest import from the mysterious Orient since Charlie Chan. Word is that the four-seat, Subaru 360 Sedan, has a top speed of 70 miles an hour and gives 66 miles to one gallon of gasoline—all for $1,297 P.O.E.

In all, there will be more than 450 U. S. passenger cars, commercial and import vehicles in the Chicago Auto show marking it as the most complete show of its kind to be presented in North America this year. The displays will cover more than a half million square feet of exposition space.

Show hours are from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. daily.

The going got a little crowded under the basket as a Sequoit player lets loose with a goal notching toss out of heavy traffic.

Seat Belts Are Being Neglected

The Lake County Safety Commission reports half the motorists in the U. S. are neglecting a simple safety precaution that could save their lives in event of a traffic crash.

In a nationwide poll of more than 135,000 drivers, only 46 per cent of those responding reported they always used their seat belts for local travel — trips up to 25 miles. Slightly more than half (55 per cent) said they always wore their seat belts on trips of 25 miles or more.

Studies of fatal accidents repeatedly show ejection from the vehicle as a leading cause of death. Additionally, severe and often fatal injury can result during the so-called 'second collision' when unrestrained bodies hurtle forward to strike portions of the car interior, or fellow passengers. Seat belts fastened snugly, holding their wearers securely in place, can prevent the majority of 'ejection from vehicle' or 'second collision' type injuries and fatalities.

Executive Director Jerry Klebe reminds motorists that seat belts should be worn firmly around the hips—not the waist—with no slack. Shoulder belts, just loose enough so a fist can be placed between belt and chest, and both should be worn whenever and wherever you ride or drive, buckle up—get the SAFETY habit.

Owners, Drivers Meet

Promoter Gordon Sill, of the Waukegan Speedway, has announced Sunday, March 2 as the date for the annual Lake County Racing owners and drivers meeting. This event will get under way at 2 p.m. in the Lake Villa VFW Hall.

The major business in the meeting will revolve around the new asphalt surface at the Speedway. For over twenty years, Waukegan has been a clay racing surface. The new asphalt topping requires some changes in the track rules, division rules and procedures. These will be outlined at the meeting.

Also on the agenda will be the schedule for the two race car exhibitions the Waukegan Speedway will sponsor in late March. One will be held again this year in the Randhurst Shopping Center in Mount Prospect and the other in the Belvidere Mall in Waukegan.

After the business meeting the divisional registration will be held. Any car owner or driver wishing to run under the same number as he did last season should register at this time. After March 2 all numbers, except 1 through 10 will be available. After the meeting there will be free refreshments.

The waukegan Speedway will kick off their 1969 stock car racing season on Saturday night, April 12, as the late models take to the track. The next night, April 13, the ultra-fast modified division will have their chance to blister the pavement and rewrite the record books.

St. Peter's Takes 2nd Place

The 4th Annual Catholic Grade School basketball tournament held at Carmel High School the past two week-ends, was a huge success.

Thirty-two teams competed. There were two divisions, A division were teams from schools with 530 enrollment or more and B division with an enrollment of 529 or less.

St. Peter's of Antioch with 372 enrollment played to the finals and took second place. Each boy received a trophy, and a team trophy, for the school.

In the first round St. Peter's beat Our Lady of Humility of Zion. Next, was Mother of God, Waukegan. The score was 29-20 in favor of St. Peter's.

On Sunday, Feb. 23, at 1 p.m., the St. Peter's team defeated St. Bart's, also of Waukegan, 36-30. The championship game played at 5:15 was won by St. Joseph of Waukegan, but St. Peter's put up a good fight. Final score 28-17.

The boys on the team are: Don Dowell, Art Frisell, Tim Garwood, Mike Gutowski, Mike Harvey, Paul Hart, Tom O'Neill, Bob Palenik, Mark Smith, and Tom Warner. The coach is Don Pyles.

The 7th grade also has a fine team, and they will host a basketball tournament on March 15th and 16th at St. Peter's Social Center. Admission will be 50c for adults and 25c for children. Starting time is 12 noon on both days. The public is invited. Any profits received will go towards buying equipment for all the basketball teams.

Sophs Whip Wauconda In Finale

Antioch's Sophomores whipped Wauconda's Sophomores 53-42 in the season finale last Friday night on the Sequoit floor. After a dull and listless first half which ended in a 13-13 tie, the Sequoits pumped 25 points thru the nets in the third quarter to go ahead 38-25.

They then played a respectable fourth quarter to post the win. Kurth of Wauconda had 23 points, the game's high.

The win gave Antioch a 15-9 season's record and an 11-3 conference record.

SMOKED MEAT SPECIALISTS

Antioch Packing House Features Gourmet Items

One of the oldest packing houses in the area, and one that specializes in smoked meat and gourmet items, is the Antioch Packing House Inc. on Rte. 83 north of Antioch.

The firm is noted particularly for its JoPat brand of ham, bacon and sausage.

MRS. AND MRS. Joseph Patrovsky purchased the business in May, 1923, from Chris Roeschlein, and they have owned it since that time.

In 1949 young Joe came into the business and the past several years has assumed the managing and operation of the business.

The brand name of JoPat comes from the combination of the first and last names of the founder.

The firm is engaged in the production of select and smoked meat items and sausage.

Patrovsky, Sr. learned the meat business in Germany and had several markets in Chicago before moving to Antioch.

Combined years of experience in the meat business for both Patrovskys is more than 80 years and including the butchers at the packing house, the total experience is more than 150 years.

In the retail side of the business, the firm boasts of its aged steaks, its selected pork products and the home style, hickory-smoked hams, bacon and sausage.

THE USE OF whole hickory logs and slow burning over hickory embers helps to make that fine color and aroma of the firm's smoked products.

All but a few of the sausage and smoked items are made by the firm, and during the Christmas holidays, speciality items of turkey, pheasant, and mallard are added to the smoked gourmet list.

From the unusual (tigers, elephants and lions that the firm butchers for a canning firm in Chicago) to prime-aged steaks and hickory smoked meats, the JoPat name has spelled quality for many years.

The old fashioned market, with the hanging quarters of beef, the mass display of fresh and smoked meats, the open cooler that invites customers to choose, the Antioch Packing Plant has changed little in 45 years.

The friendly service of personable meat specialists is still found today. The old-world formulas of sausage and smoked meat is the same.

BUT GONE ARE the old prices of 1930-33; pork chops, 12 cents; T-bone steak, 20 cents; pork loins, six cents; hams, 18 cents; and bacon, 12 cents.

JOE PATROVSKY

Today's meat and meat products from Antioch Packing are brought to the housewives of the Lake County area in an old-fashioned setting with modern equipment and government inspection.

The firm is now moving into more concentrated production of sausage and smoked products made under a private label.

OUTLOOK

Payson Casters Moving To Area

Payson Casters, Inc., is expanding through the building of a new plant and the hiring of a new industrial distributor, Caldwell Industrial Supply, Inc.

Harry Sullivan, president of Payson, said his firm is building a 60,000 square foot factory in the Waukegan portion of the Waukegan-Gurnee Industrial Park.

AT THE SAME time he has appointed Caldwell Industrial Supply, Inc., Waukegan, as his distributor for the northern Illinois market between Rockford and Waukegan.

Robert Krebs, president of Caldwell, one of the fastest growing industrial supply houses in the nation, said Payson represents an important addition to his line.

Krebs said the Payson casters will enable him to increase his penetration into present markets in the northern Illinois area and to perhaps open up new accounts in the purveyor and institutional fields.

PAYSON MAKES stem, brake and other types of casters up to 16-inch diameter out of plastic, rubber and metal for institutional, industrial and heavy duty use.

Sullivan said that when his firm moves into Waukegan, it will hire 100 people from the Lake County area.

He said the company also will be buying new equipment. This includes numerical control drill presses, several 150 ton punch presses, and other machinery.

Payson will vacate its present 50,000 square foot factory at 2916 W. Jackson Blvd., Chicago.

How Anchor Inc. Helps With One's Self Image

One firm in this area believes an employe's own self image is one of his more important problems.

Has he too much confidence, or not enough?

Anchor Coupling Co. Inc. of Libertyville has built an employe policy that takes both these extremes into its planning—as well as the shades in between.

Bill Osborn, personnel manager, says that there is opportunity for all of them at Anchor.

He can prove it with nearly a thousand current 'case histories' of Anchor people at work.

Osborn says the principle is as old as philosophy: "You don't stand in one place. Either you're going up or down".

ANCHOR PERSONNEL policies are the key to the company's success, says Don F. Stranberg, president. "Each year, when we report to shareholders on what we've been doing, I try to put across the fact that Anchor's millions of dollars' worth of plant, property and equipment couldn't earn a dime without the dedication and skills of the people who run them."

What about the people who would like to have a spot at Anchor, but don't feel qualified for much of anything? Osborn says that the vital qualification is want-to, not already-acquired skills.

"IN-PLANT, on-the-job training is nothing new at Anchor," he states. "Our training ranges from teaching the simplest work routines to new employes, through supervisory upgrading, to college and university courses to extend the abilities and potentials of management men."

An interesting aspect of this primary Anchor training is how often employes have shown that this was all they needed to "take off like a house afire."

Busy Young Man Forsakes Singing For Retailing

Don't let the name Jones Dress Shop deceive you, this complex is really three stores in one catering to clothing needs of the entire family, ladies, men, and children.

The president, Perry Lipham, is a dynamic young man with a diverse background that began with attendance at Round Lake Grade and High School.

He then majored in music (vocal) and political science at Southern Illinois University before gaining merchandising experience with a store in Decatur and then being employed as an assistant manager for a chain department store firm in Chicago.

He became affiliated with Jones Dress Shop a year and a half ago and finds it occupies too much time for him to persue his former singing hobby. He has sung a little opera with a Highwood group but long work hours, especially during the busier seasons, prohibits his further participation.

A bachelor, Perry makes his home in Round Lake with his mother, Erdine Lipham, who is a part owner of the Jones establishment.

PERRY LIPHAM

He foresees, "A definite expansion in Avon Township with astronomical growth taking place in the next five years."

Under his direction new lines are constantly being added to those already carried in the store, Farah slacks for ladies and Peters outerwear for both men and women are just two of the many new ones available on their shelves.

He is convinced that this season the "Wet Look" will be "in" and has arranged to feature this shimmering nylon material in a full range of fantastic colors used in frocks, skirts, slacks, blouses, outerwear and other fabric items.

Newspaper Group Promotes Johnson

The promotion of Walter C. Bishop to assistant business manager of the newspaper division was announced by Leo R. Newcombe, vice president and general manager of the Newspaper Division of Field Enterprises, Inc.

At the same time, Carl A. Sanderson, controller, announced the promotion of Frank Albachiaro to assistant controller of the Newspaper Division, and Royce Johnson to manager of general accounting.

The three promotions become effective March 1, 1969.

In his new position Bishop will assume overall responsibility for both the computer services department, which continues under the direction of Paul Willis, and administrative service activities.

Royce Johnson lives in Grayslake and has been with the newspaper division since 1952.

Frank Sullivan Expands Again In Grayslake

Frank Sullivan and Co. is now in the process of expanding its physical plant for the second time since coming to Grayslake.

The present expansion of 13,000 square feet will have the total work and storage area of more than 60,000 square feet.

The Sullivan Co. produces a wide variety of work surfaces which are faced with laminated plastic.

During a year, over one and one half million square feet of laminated plastic sheets will be fabricated into such commercial and industrial items as restaurant table tops, hospital and school tops, rail car interiors, hotel and motel furniture components, office work surfaces and a multitude of items which are custom designed for special purposes.

The company is one of the largest and best equipped custom fabricators in the industry and is generally rated foremost in the field for the quality of its product.

Over half of the company's 60 employes have been with the firm from 12 to 17 years, and most of those who moved from Chicago with the company have become residents of the area.

"These people, along with both the company, are our most valuarea residents, who have joined th company, are our most valuable asset," says Frank Sullivan, president.

"Our future success, he continued", will be dependent upon the ability of our company to retain and develop our present personnel and to attract additional skilled help as well as trainees."

To achieve this goal, the company to the best of its ability, constantly strives to maintain good working conditions in the shop and to recognize individual skills of its employes. Base pay scales have always been consistent with or above the industry with merit increase for individual achievement. The company has never had a layoff of its employes.

Since coming to Grayslake, the company has added excellent medical coverage for each employe and his family at no cost to the employe and an exceptional thrift-retirement plan that allows the employe to share in the profit of the company.

Michael DiPiero Named Manager At Trio Lumber

Michael Ivo DiPiero of Round Lake has been employed by Trio Lumber Co., 340 W. Railroad Ave., in the capacity of manager.

He is joining the firm on March 1 according to Dr. A. Wayne Randolph, of Western Illinois University where DiPiero will be graduated in March.

C. L. Gay of Trio Lumber Co. has just returned from a seminar conducted by Morgan Co., Oshkosh, Wis., to acquaint dealers with all phases of woodwork styling for the construction industry.

During his stay Gay toured the large firm to gain insight into present designs and preview exciting new products and processes which will soon be introduced.

Lock Nut Firm Has Bright Future

Lock nuts are changing the nuts and bolts business of manufacturing.

Because of the present trend to specify lock nuts rather than common nuts on automobiles, farm equipment, electric motors, appliances and the like, MacLean-Fogg Lock Nut Co., 1000 Allanson Rd., Mundelein, faces a bright future.

MacLean-Fogg is spurring the changeover because of its ability to develop new locking fasteners that increase reliability and reduce costs.

THE COMPANY is keeping costs and prices at reasonable levels by increasing speed of tapping at reasonable levels.

Tapping is a key part of the manufacturing process. A good portion of high-volume nuts are being tapped on MacLean tapping machines.

Besides manufacturing, warehousing is a necessary part of MacLean-Fogg's contribution to the fastener industry.

Barry MacLean, vice president, said finished inventory normally runs over 150 million lock nuts and special nuts. This is about three months' production.

The company began in 1927, serving mainly the railroads.

A NEW ENTERPRISE for the company is MacLean Engineering Co., designer and manufacturer of special machinery — notably the patented MacLean nut tapping machine.

The company is housed in a million-dollar plant of subdued red brick and wide expanses of glass. Huge oak and hickory trees, plus a pond, give it a natural setting.

An unusual feature of the building are 22 foot high ceilings, necessary for the orderly storage of the huge quantities of lock nuts.

Total fastener industry sales estimated by the Industrial Fasteners Institute are $1.4 billion per year.

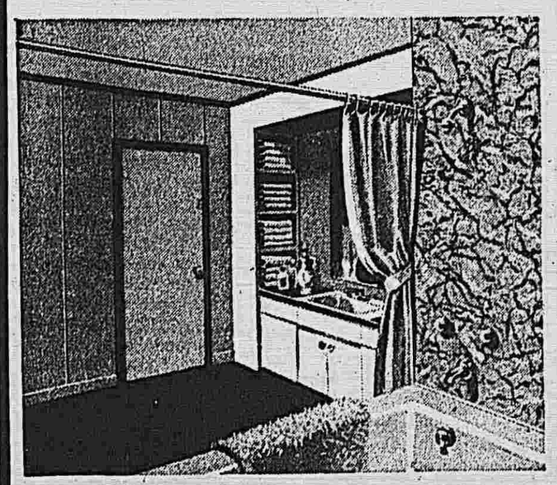

MacLean-Fogg Lock Nut Co. is a small but enthusiastic participant in this market.

REVOLUTIONARY — MacLean tappers, produced by new enterprise of MacLean-Fogg Lock Nut Co., Mundelein, are revolutionizing lock nut industry. New machines tap 50 per cent of plant's output.

Limited Cutting

In a continuing economy move 831 employes were knocked off the Illinois Highway payroll a week ago.

Gov. Richard Ogilvie has ordered the austerity because Illinois is near bankrupcy.

When Gov. Otto Kerner took office eight years ago there were approximately 60,000 state payrollers. When he left office he had added approximately 48,000 to bring the total to 108,000 employes.

But how far can Gov. Ogilvie cut? Possibly there will be a limit to what he can do.

For instance there is Secretary of State Paul Powell, a Democrat. Don't expect him to drop any of the faithful from his payroll. But suppose the Legislature cuts Powell's appropriation. What will he do then? He can do just what he is doing now and keep all his faithful on the payroll and as the bills pile up he can hand them to the Legislature and demand ---and get---a deficiency appropriation.

Paul Simon, the lieutenant governor is a Democrat and so is Mike Howlett, state auditor. Gov. Ogilvie has no control over them although both have borne a reputation of operating in the public interest.

Thus it becomes very evident that the executive branch of the Illinois government is definitely bi-party and it would take a bi-party effort to strip most of the 48,000 off the payroll that Gov. Kerner added during his eight years.

It is certain that Gov. Ogilvie can't do it alone.

The cuts made so far have been pitifully small compared to what could-be-and should be done.

Don't Know Taxes

The limited understanding that some people have about taxes, who spends them and how they are spent, worries Supervisor Ron Coles of Lake Villa Township.

From time to time Coles samples his constituency to learn how much they know or don't know about government. Frequently the assortment of answers he gets are amazing.

Not too long ago one of his questions was:

"How much does the State of Illinois get in taxes from your property tax?" The proper answer should be NOT ONE RED CENT.

But Coles was astonished to find that too few people knew the right answer. The State of Illinois quit collecting property tax in 1933 when Gov. Henry Horner's administration instituted the first sales tax of one cent.

Coles, like many of his colleagues in public office, regrets that some taxpayers neglect to keep themselves informed about governmental processes and affairs. A well informed public, in his opinion, could bring improvements in government. And he is SO RIGHT!

Happy Birthday

Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. will celebrate their 57th birthday March 12 during National Girl Scout Week - - March 9 - 15.

Founded in 1912 in Savannah, Ga., American Girl Scouting has grown up with the nation. The theme of the organization for the years 1966-69, "Values to Hold, Worlds to Explore," represents values held constant for almost 60 years - - but expressed each day, month, and year in a modern and timely way.

Today's Girl Scouts work against poverty and inequality; last year the organization's national board of directors voted to support the major goal objectives of the report of the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders. The 3.5 million members express their beliefs - - their values - - through service in their own and neighboring communities, in schools, libraries, centers, hospitals, parks, or whereever goodwill and dedication can be useful.

Let's wish them a heartfelt "Happy Birthday" during their week.

Rare Tribute

President Nixon paid rare high tribute to community journalism in his inaugural address when he said, "To match the magnitude of our tasks, we need the energies of our people - - - enlisted not only in grand enterprises, but more importantly in those small, splendid efforts that make headlines in the neighborhood newspaper instead of the national journal."

It is interesting for the President of the United States to single out the community newspaper industry for recognition at a time when publishers are deeply concerned that their newspapers are being ignored by a growing number of national marketing interests and taken for granted on the home front by advertisers and subscribers.

The problem is that the stock in trade of community newspapers is faces and human beings as individuals whereas marketing now is enamored with "the numbers game" in dealing with potential customers as a faceless, anonymous mass.

If the advent of the Nixon administration is a mark of the times and Americans are yearning for a return to individualism, then, indeed, the day may be close at hand when the tube will cease hurling affrontries at viewers and people no longer will be addressed as "patrons," "occupants," or "the folks at."

EDITOR'S VIEWPOINT

Let's Hear From People On Bong Field

by BILL SCHROEDER

Few public endeavors have been kicked around as much as the Bong Air Base project, roughly 5,500 acres of some of Wisconsin's finest farm land in west Kenosha County, originally earmarked by the U.S. Dept. of Defense as an Air Force base. Defense officials never could make up their minds whether the base should house fighters, bombers or both and the project ultimately was dropped after the investment of $25 million in land acquisition, land clearing and runway preparation.

SCHROEDER

Approximately 10 miles north of Antioch, the Bong site now is a conservation and recreation location, probably for want of a better use. All sorts of ideas have been advanced on how to utilize this vast acreage, some serious and some that sound like tongue in cheek—like the Chicago politician's proposal to re-locate a nuclear missile installation at Bong or the idea to rebuild a new Wisconsin State Fairgrounds at Bong.

There's a small band of citizens and aviation enthusiasts on both sides of the stateline who still feel Bong should be an airport. Arthur W. Schelter, secretary of the influential Illinois Airport Operators Assn., says Bong is a natural to relieve pressure on O'Hare International Airport and serve the northern Chicago-Milwaukee metropolitan area. Schelter, who at times has been sort of a "one-man-in-the-wilderness" about preserving Bong for an airport, has adopted a new approach, no doubt with a keen awareness of Mayor Daley's emmense power to get things he wants for Chicago. The viewpoint is good practical politics. Let Chicago build its third airport in Lake Michigan or Joliet or wherever it wants, says Schelter, but make Bong Chicago's fourth airport. And in playing a sort of aeronautical musical chairs, Schelter sees nothing wrong with building the fourth airport before the third. Aviation experts have agreed that Bong could be operational within a year while the lake airport or another major airfield big enough to handle the jumbo jets might take eight years.

United Airlines is making a serious inquiry into Bong's potential as an air freight center. A legal battle is shaping up in Madison, I'm told, to preserve Bong as an airport.

Schelter's "four before three" also has another practical implication. By "giving" Chicago the third field, Chicago politics is eliminated from Bong consideration. The veteran flyer, whose experience dates back to the helmet and goggle days, believes Wisconsin then could proceed unincumbered by Daley's arm-twisting.

Gov. Warren Knowles of Wisconsin is getting a report on Bong's potential from aviation advisers so the "Bong movement" is moving into the high echelons of government. Keeping in mind the Illinois political power structure, undoubtedly Gov. Richard Ogilvie of Illinois would just as soon stay out of the picture although many Bong enthusiasts believe there would be much to gain by the two governors working together to get another huge modern airport to serve the Chicago-Milwaukee complex.

So far, though, there doesn't seem to be enough general interest in Bong to reawaken the twitchings of land speculators who moved in like vultures in the middle '50's to grab choice diggings that would turn into gold when the Air Force arrived.

Yet to be heard from are the citizens over whose homes the big jets will soar if Bong does become a commercial airport. I wonder how they feel?

Congress Relishes Its Secrets

by BERT MILLS

Washington, D.C.—Congress has decreed a Freedom-of-Information policy for the departments and agencies in the executive branch of the government but still does much of its own work in secret.

During the 90th Congress which ended last year, there were 3,080 committee meetings, and 1,328 of them were closed to the public. The breakdown was 57 per cent open, 43 per cent closed. The Senate was much more secretive than the House with 52 per cent of its committee meetings held in private. Only 31 per cent of House meetings were behind closed doors.

If Congress tends toward secrecy, the downtown departments and agencies spew out a constant stream of facts and figures, of which the following are a sample:

About 100 million automobile tires are discarded annually in the U.S., adding one million tons to the national junkpile. A research project by the Bureau of Mines, in cooperation with Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., shows promise of reclaiming valuable materials from discarded tires.

In one test, shredded tires were fed into a reactor and heated until they broke down into chemical compounds. One ton of tires produced 140 gallons of liquid oils, plus 1,500 cubic feet of gas useful for heat and power.

If you want to see tall mountains but remain in the U.S., go to Alaska. There are 88 mountains in the nation which tower more than 14,000 feet above sea level, but the 16 tallest are all in Alaska.

About three per cent of all eggs are broken during processing at an annual loss of $25 million. So the Atomic Energy Commission and the Department of Agriculture developed a process using beta particles to gauge the thickness of eggshells, allowing the diet of chickens to be regulated so they lay eggs more resistant to breakage.

Benefits are being paid by the Veterans Administration to more than 1,500 widows and children of Civil War veterans, two Indian War veterans and 250 dependents, and more than 10,000 Spanish - American war survivors and 50,000 of their dependents. All told, VA has 94 million pensioners on its rolls.

MILLS

When Pat Nixon toured her new home, she found the family living area on the second floor of the White House contains 14 rooms, with six bedrooms and six baths. The third floor, used for guests, has nine more rooms and seven more baths.

Dancing is being subsidized by Uncle Sam to the tune of at least $132,760 this year. Grants totaling that sum were made by the National Council on the Arts to 15 choreographers. The money goes for creating new dance works and for salaries of dancers during a four-week rehearsal period.

Our major regulating agency is headed by a Chairman who answers to the name "Peaches." Heading the Interstate Commerce Commission is Mrs. Virginia Mae Brown, an ICC member since 1964. She is 45 and acquired her nickname in college. Her colleagues on the Commission are 10 men.

Explanation of those airport delays is to be found in Federal Aviation Administration statistics. In 1968, air traffic control centers handled 17 per cent more aircraft than in the previous year. Until 1968, none of FAA's 27 centers had ever handled more than 1.5 million aircraft operations, but Chicago, New York, and Cleveland all topped that mark last year.

Out-of-season vacations have become so popular that only half of pleasure trips are now taken during the summer. A Census Bureau study of 1967 travel showed 12.7 per cent of vacation trips taken during the first calendar quarter, 20.6 per cent during the spring quarter, 49.7 per cent during the summer, and 17 per cent in the fall.

About one of 10 Americans now qualifies as a senior citizen. The over-65 population is about 20 million. Only about 10 per cent receive Old Age Assistance payments averaging $70.25 per month, but about 90 per cent are covered by Medicare.

What Illinois Editors Say

PREDICTIONS FOR 2000

"Lend an ear to one set of predictions for 2000 A.D.

"No dusting, scrubbing or vacuuming, courtesy of sonic devices which banish dirt; little or no cooking, thanks to freezer-microwave ovens; no dishwashing, for disposable dishes will be made from powdered plastic (yuk) from a machine in the kitchen; and no ironing because clothes will all be permanent pressed (hallelujah).

"It all sounds pretty great except those powdered plastic dishes and I'm not too sure about that real gone oven. But powdered plastic. . .come on, lets stay primitive and go though the rigors of eating off china and using the automatic dishwasher!" — The Wood River Journal.

FIGHTING'S EASIER

"Wouldn't it be nice if it took as long to get a war started, as it does to get peace talks rolling?" —The Hinckley Review.

PROPHETS OF DOOM AND THE MEN OF FAITH

"Many times in ancient history, men and women listened to prophets of doomsday, abandoned their homes and all their possessions, and fled to the hills to wait for the world to come to an end. But it never did.

"This country, too, has listened to its gloomy predictions. Not just threats of doomsday — but criticisms and dire prophesies concerning every new invention or discovery made by man. These critics laughed at the steamboat, calling it 'Fulton's Folly.' They thought the automobile was an interesting toy, but were sure it would never replace the horse. And as for the airplane — why, that would never become practical!

"Meanwhile the men who were building these things, men with faith in the future, did not listen to the prophets of doomsday. They were too busy building the world of today's comforts and conveniences.

"And tomorrow they will go right on, making America even greater than before, while pessimists flee to the hills and watch the sky for disaster that never comes." — The Sheffield Bulletin.

Letters To The Editor

PHONY ARGUMENT

Editor:

I read Phil Chard's recent letter to the editor concerning the ABM System with great interest. Chard has obviously done his homework well and sincerely believes what he says. Chard's information sounded very familiar and when he quoted Dr. Jerome Wiesner I knew why it sounded familiar.

Dr. Wiesner plays a prominent part in a propaganda spearhead by a group of leftists and pacifists plotting to set our nation's scientists and engineers against our military. Among the other ringleaders are such well-known intellectual sponsors of U. S. unilateral disarmament as W. H. Ferry of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions at Santa Barbara, longtime socialist Adolph Berle, Prof. I. I. Rabi of Columbia University (a participant in the Cyrus Eaton Pugwash Conferences), and socialist scholar Prof. Franz Shurman of the University of California at Berkeley.

The center for the study of Democratic institutions is the epicenter for the propaganda campaign. On Nov. 1, 1968 it sent a letter to presidents of major industrial corporations engaged in defense work announcing a "Public Discussion", Nov. 19-20, in New York City on "ABM: Yes or No?" Chairman of this meeting at the Hilton Hotel was Supreme Court Justice William Douglas who made no attempt to play a dispassionate role when he made the following one-sided opening statement: "My lay judgment is the manufacture of these systems of missile defense systems will make the military - industrial complex rich etc.".

On Nov. 20 the center held a closed meeting from which the press was barred. The secret talks were attended by four members of the center staff, including W. H. Ferry and Harvey Wheeler, who are notoriously anti-U.S. government and anti-U.S. military. Also attending were Dr. Wiesner, Sen. George McGovern, Adolph Berle, I. I. Rabi, and Franz Shurman.

The edited version of their secret discussion is to be published by the center this month. The center wears a tissue paper cover of objectivity to maintain its tax-exempt status but it is a principal originator of leftist propaganda attack against the U.S., having published many "Better Red Then Dead" diatribes by W. H. Ferry, Walter Mills and others.

When President Nixon announced his intention of strengthening U. S. military defenses, the center intensified its anti-ABM propaganda by using Dr. Jerome Wiesner as a prime spokesman. Behind the scenes, Dr. Wiesner is supporting the Leftist Radical Science Action Coordinating Committee at MIT, a group organizing a nationwide "strike" of scientists and engineers, March 4, 1969, against our government. Dr. Wiesner will kick off the strike on the evening of March 3, along with Leftist Professor Noam Chomsky. The SACC is cooperating with the students for a Democratic society and the socialist scholars for this "strike". They are also in close touch with Prof. Melvin Rosenberg of the University of Chicago and with Prof. Charles Schwartz of the University of California at Berkeley.

Although I may have reservations concerning the effectiveness of the Sentinel ABM System I can not give credence to the arguments of Jerome Wiesner and his cohorts.

HUNT'S WORLD

Protestor Proves His Point

by CHICK HUNT

Rusty Belanger, a citizen of no assured income, was being conveyed from the Bon Ton Restaurant under circumstances peculiar to his way of life.

With each stride his aproned escort's grasp on Rusty's collar and coat tails tightened, until finally the gourmet's prostrate form came to rest on the public sidewalk, and the waiter, striking imaginary dust from his palms, returned to his work at the tables.

In this not too gentle way the management expressed its displeasure with patrons who failed to pay for their meals.

HUNT

But Rusty, a resourceful fellow, wasn't the sort to be toyed with in just this way. Picking himself up, he brandished a vengeful fist at his persecutors on the opposite side of the restaurant doors, and spoke bitterly of retaliation.

Bystanders went away with the impression Rusty would return. That he would do something to dramatize the imbalance of crime and punishment under capitalism.

Two days later the redhead came back to make good his threats. Somewhere he had got hold of a battered zither, sadly out of tune, and now, standing near the Bon Ton, he played music so bad that all who were exposed to it clapped thier hands over their ears. Then mercifully, rain drove him away

The next day he appeared between sandwich boards ornamented with legends. The common man, these epithets implied, contributed to his own downfall by patronizing the cafe, whose policies aimed to demoralize the Great Society of recent memory and treated as a joke the War on Poverty with its humanitarian aims.

Somewhere, somebody must have said a man can only make a success of any undertaking when he has his full time to devote to it. Rusty Belanger returned with the zither on pleasant days and wore sandwich boards when it rained.

In addition he made faces at the management and servitors as they came and went, inserting his thumbs in his ears.

The situation was deteriorating rapidly, Belanger dared believe, and he glowed with conscious pride. Then one day he became aware the cafe's patronage was not exactly dropping off but seemed almost immune to his program. Customers were as numerous as ever, if not more so, and often they smiled at him in amusement or stopped to exchange friendly banter. The Bon Ton, pinched between buildings that jutted further toward the street, had never known the small acclaim that Rusty's presence had conferred upon it, and for this, all things considered, the management was disposed to be grateful. The restaurant proprietor allowed it to be known that he considered Belanger his greatest single asset, going so far as to say:

"He's killing us with kindness. We don't got to advertise."

The amiable Greek ransacked his bosom for some way in which he might repay his benefactor's kindness but could find none. If he offered him three free meals a day, experience told him the transient would be almost sure to complain of the cooking. If he placed Belanger on the payroll the heckler would take this to mean his once pleasurable pastime had now become work, and in consequence Rusty would take to his heels. Yet if he took the man's favors with no show of gratitude, the tycoon's sense of justice would be violated.

"We got to do something for Rusty," he said repeatedly, until the idea became an obsession, and finally, because of his fetish, he became the perfect picture of a thwarted man.

Migration Major Factor

County Population To Hit Half Million By 1980

The 1960 population of Lake County will probably be doubled by 1980 — an increase of almost 300,000 people, according to a study made by the Lake County Regional Planning Commission.

Commission Director Norman Drummond even speculates that the county's population will near the 600,000 mark by 1980, about 100,000 more than was predicted a few years ago.

"NOW WE ARE a little below our forecast, but the county will probably grow at a faster rate than anticipated because of the massive relocation of industry in Lake County," Drummond said.

The director points to the recent construction throughout the county of major industries — Baxter Laboratories international headquarters near Deerfield and the research facility west of Round Lake, Ozite Corp. headquarters north of Libertyville and American Hospital Supply Corp. in Warren Township.

American Hospital Supply Corp. has announced that its huge complex on Rte. 43 will employe 7,500 people.

"According to the National Chamber of Commerce, 100 new workers and families represent an increase of 65 more families in supporting roles including professional men, merchants and other workers," Drummond pointed out.

"This kind of industrial development," Drummond said in referring to American Hospital Supply Corp., "was not included in the population forecast."

SURPRISINGLY, the birth rate factor has little effect on the population growth. The birth rate in Lake County is at a new low while the death rate remains fairly constant, Drummond said.

Before the birth rate will have any effect on population projections, the director said, Lake County will have to get cheaper housing.

As it stands now, because of the housing shortage and the high expense of buying a house, people with established families are moving to Lake County.

"For example," Drummond said, "the birth rate in Lake Forest is far below the national average, while in Zion, it is above average."

From 1947 to 1957, the national birth rate remained at a very high level, more than 25 live births per 1,000 population. Since 1957, the Census Bureau's studies show, the birth rate has steadily declined until it now stands at 18 per 1,000 —the lowest in U.S. history.

In the accompanying graphs and chart, prepared using data from the Lake County Regional Planning Commission, the growth of the northwestern part of the county is shown.

DRUMMOND maintains that most of the population will center around the North Shore area where the density of the population will increase, but as the figures show, there is considerable spillover into the surrounding townships with Warren Township, by the year 2000, becoming the most populated of the six northwest Lake County townships.

In the accompanying graph the 1960 population figures are from the 1960 U.S. Census with the remaining figures being projections by the planning commission.

Avon Township will continue to be the most populated township in the area until 2000 when it falls behind Warren Township.

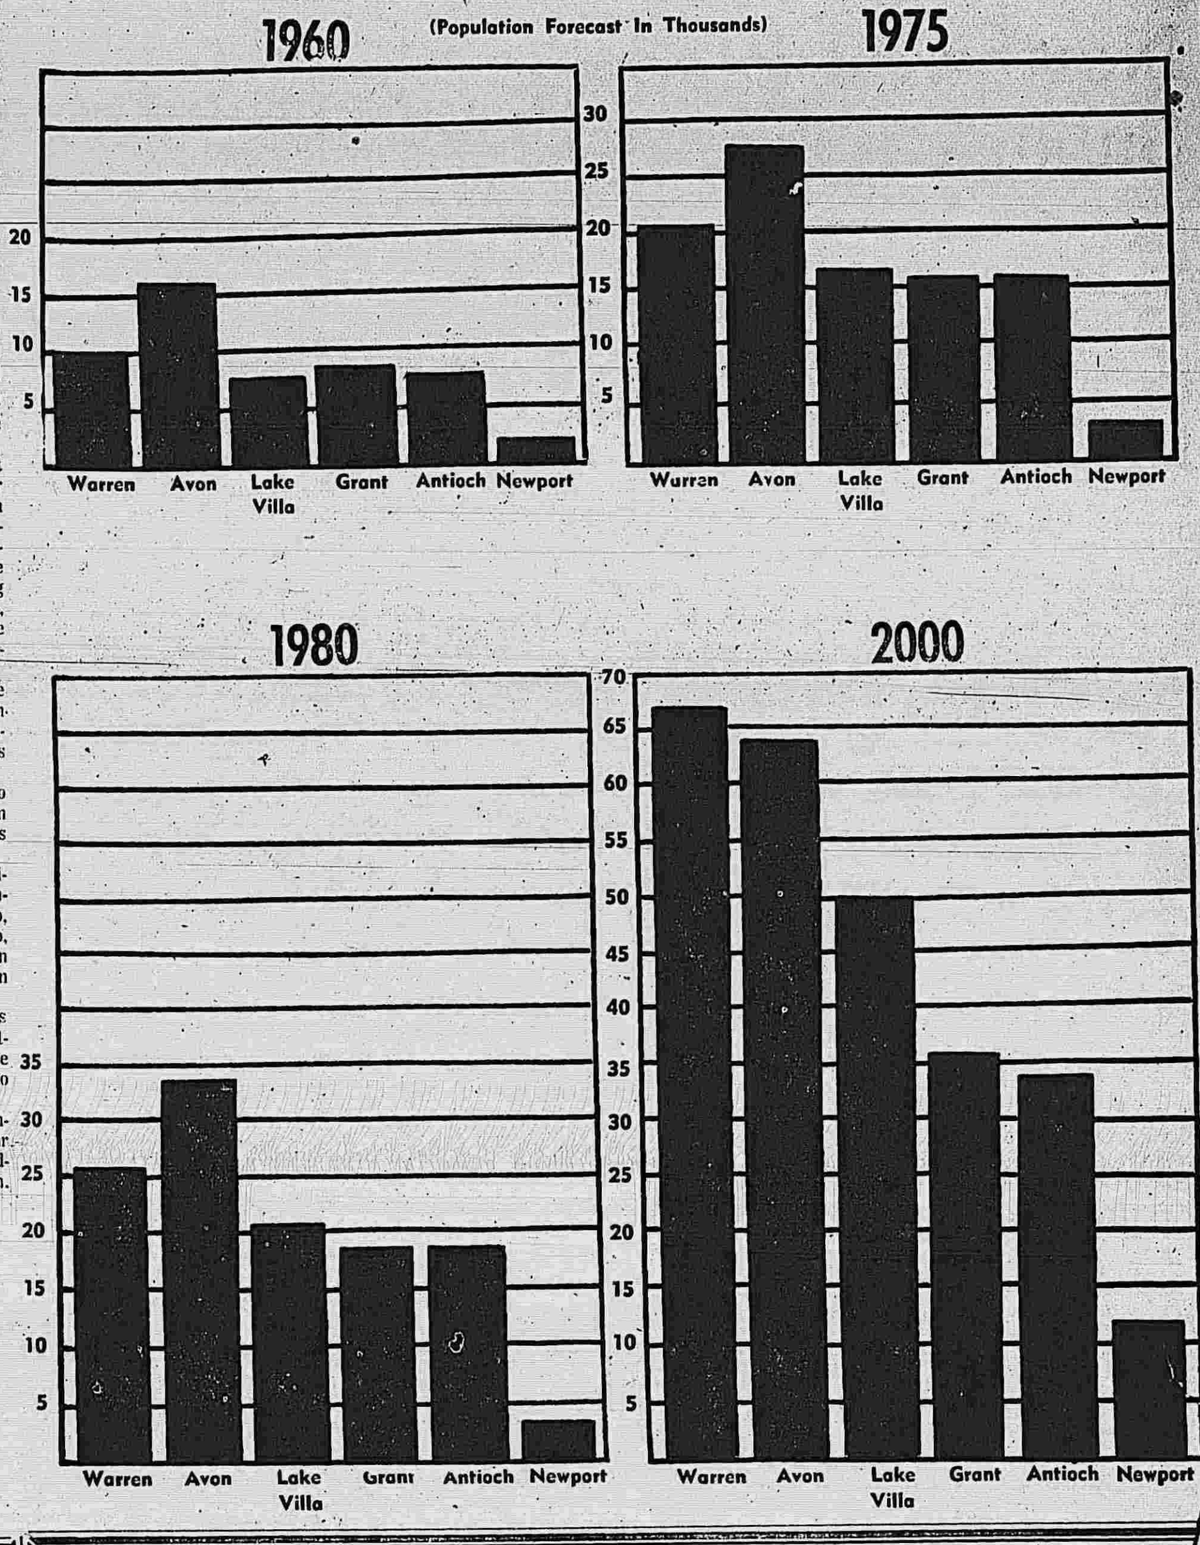

By 1980 there will be an estimated 34,200 people in Avon Township, 26,600 in Warren Township, 21,000 in Lake Villa Township, 19,800 in Grant Township, 19,000 in Antioch Township and 3,600 in Newport Township.

According to the commission's projection, Gurnee will be the fastest growing community in the area. Its population is expected to soar to 12,000 by the year 2000.

Population in many of the communities will double in the 20-year period from 1960 to 1980, according to the commission's projection.

Northwest Becomes Suburban In 1957

Sports Outlook

The Northwest Suburban Conference is perhaps one of the oldest conferences in the state of Illinois.

The athletic loop has undergone 10 changes in its 44-year history to make the current alignment of eight schools. At one time there was as many as 14 schools competing.

Consolidations and population explosions resulting in new schools brought about the many changes.

WHEN THE LEAGUE was born March 17, 1925, it was known as the Northwest Conference. Not until 1957 was the term "suburban" inserted.

The original seven members were Antioch, Arlington Heights, Barrington, Libertyville, Palatine, Warren and Wauconda.

Leyden was added in 1926 then Bensenville (later known as Fenton) joined the following year. The NWC became a 10-team league in 1928 when Ela of Lake Zurich joined.

Grant of Fox Lake and Lake Forest made their first appearance in 1935 to make a 12-team league. The following year Niles joined.

The 14-team league took shape in 1938 with the addition of Northbrook.

A break-up of the league came in 1939 when Arlington Heights, Lake Forest, Leyden, Libertyville, Niles, and Warren dropped out. This left Antioch, Barrington, Grant, Palatine, Wauconda, Bensenville, Ela and Northbrook.

GRAYSLAKE MADE its first appearance in the league in 1952 when it replaced Barrington. During the 1952-53 school year, a seven-team league was in operation, as Northbrook dropped out to reappear as Glenbrook the following year.

The present-day league really became founded in 1957 when Warren and Lake Forest were asked to rejoin the league and Round Lake, which was just formed, became a member. These three schools replaced Glenbrook, Palatine, and Fenton (Bensenville).

The league was ideal as the geographic location meant there would be no great travel distance since all schools were located in Lake County.

During 1925-36, a conference basketball tournament was a highlight. A loop tourney reappeared in 1943 and 1944, but has since vanished.

On March 17, 1925, representatives of seven northwest area high schools met to form the conference. The first acting chairman of this group was the late Erman Smith of Barrington, who was actively connected with the conference until 1944.

Other founding principals included H. E. Underbrink, Libertyville, who was president from 1925-30; L. O. Bright, Antioch; V. I. Brown, Arlington Heights; D. W. Thompson, Warren; Guy Varner, Wauconda; and G. C. Butler, Palatine.

A NUMBER OF coaches, still known to many sports fans, made their presence felt with impressive records in the early years.

This group included "Rip" Watson, Jack Grose, Nobel Puffer, Wes Johnson, Harrison Kincaid, Jack Martin, Bob Kelton, Ed Drom, Carl Megel, Larry Crawford, John Trapp, H. L. Wesner, G. A. McElroy and Art Bergstrom.

When people ask "What does Americana Interstate do?", the answer is never really simple . . . because we do so many things. However, we are primarily a publishing and mail-order organization. This is not surprising as Americana is a wholly-owned subsidiary of the giant Grolier, Inc., (publishers of such works as THE ENCYCLOPEDIA AMERICANA and BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE).

There is an unusually wide variety of jobs here for people seeking employment in an atmosphere of excitement and creativity. We hire both skilled and unskilled office workers, secretaries, typists, buyers, creative people (artists and writers), advertising production personnel, merchandise handlers and order fillers, salespeople, computer personnel and supervisors. Most of us are local residents — many are housewives and mothers interested in part time work.

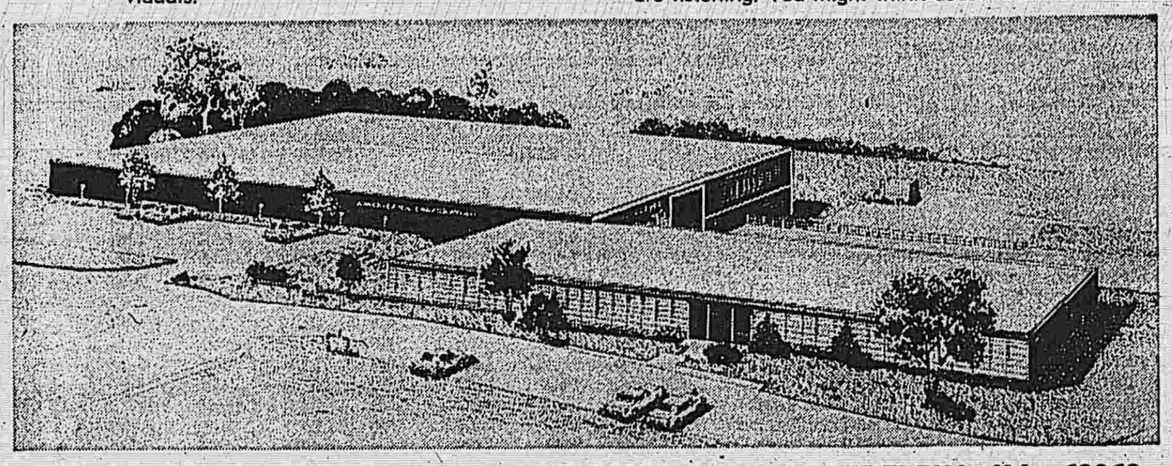

We who work here enjoy numerous advantages; among them a basic 35 hour work week (9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.), flexible hours and an extremely generous benefit program. Incidentally, one of these benefits is a substantial employee discount on all merchandise sold by the company.

Aside from the publishing and mail-order operation there is also:

- The Catalog Division which sells general merchandise through our 465-page catalog.
- Career Institute — nationally known publishers and distributors of educational material to businesses, schools, institutions, and individuals.
- Americana also manufactures and distributes reading-help materials for children and operates a monthly classical record club.
- Then there is our large (and rapidly getting larger) Warehouse Store selling nationally known brands of merchandise such as: Electric Appliances, Radios, Cameras, Housewares, Linens, Toys, Clothing, Sporting Goods, Jewelry, etc. All merchandise is at exceptionally attractive prices and fully guaranteed. Telephone orders are accepted so that customers can come in and pick up their merchandise without waiting. The phone number is 566-1260. Free catalogs are available in the store.
- We also operate a retail store under the Joseph Hagn name at 329 W. Madison in Chicago.

Twelve years ago, when Americana moved from their Michigan Avenue office to Mundelein, our then-new building housed all 40 employees with room to spare. Today Americana is a complex of 5 buildings and several divisions employing 325 people regularly — with up to 600 employees at peak periods. A new, larger Administration Building is scheduled for completion this fall. It will be located across the street from the present main office at 501 E. Lange in Mundelein.

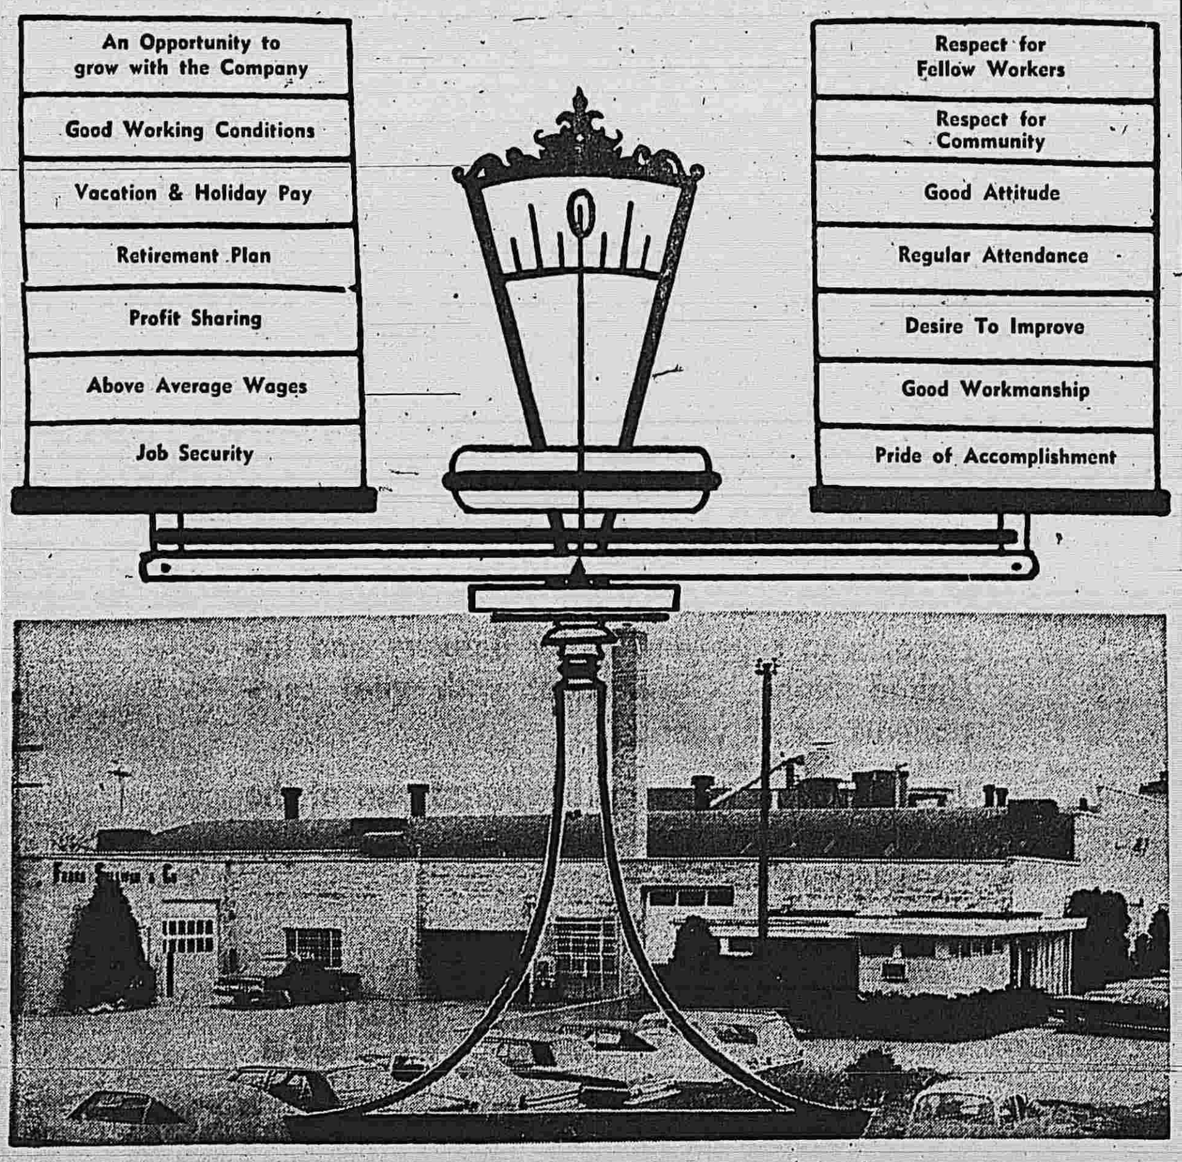

Americana's growth has been little short of phenomenal...and no slowdown is expected. In fact, opportunity is knocking at the door for those who are listening. You might think about that!
